As we understand that the Project is a step-by-step learning environment that closely simulates the class-room and Lab based learning environment into actual implementation. It is a project implementation at your fingertips!! An electronic, live juncture on the machine that allows you.

- ✓ Practice step by step i.e., laddered approach.
- ✓ Build a larger more robust application.
- ✓ Usage of certain utilities in applications designed by user.
- ✓ Single program to unified code leading to a complete application.
- ✓ Learn implementation of concepts in a phased manner.
- ✓ Enhance skills and add value.
- ✓ Work on real life projects.
- ✓ Give real life scenario, help to create applications more complicated and useful.
- ✓ Mentoring through email support.

We would like to send a great thank to our professor, Mr Le Thanh Nhan and others student for the adorable supports during the time in project.

Beside several mistakes we had made in the project, we hope to have more opportunities to widen our knowledge in web developing world. We also thank you so much for your information and the “demo” project from India APTECH to help us get more reality experience in this project. Since we have gained more experience from this project, we will not stop learning anything as much as we can to be more successful in the future.

Best Regards,

Group 02.

Synopsis

The Objective of this program is to give a sample project to work on real life projects. These applications help you build a larger more robust application.

The objective is not to teach you the software's but to provide you with a real life scenario and help you create basic applications using the tools.

You can revise the topics before you start with the project.

These programs should be done in the Lab sessions with assistance of the faculty if required.

It is very essential that a student has a clear understanding of the subject.

Kindly get back to eProjects Team in case of any doubts regarding the application or its objectives.

Problem Definition

Karnel Travels is a Tours and Travels Company which provides the various transportation facilities between the cities like tourist spots, transportation between different cities in the country, also provides accommodations in hotels, etc. Also they provide the online facility where the customers can visit online, view and order for the tours and as well the transportation.

Now they want to provide a website, through which they want to attract the customers. They want to reach out to the customers by providing various information services like the list of tourist spot, information about the various hotels and restaurants, etc. They want the website to be a URL Specific. So they approached us to build a website for them.

The client wants us to incorporate the following features in the website.

1. The URL should be <http://www.Karneltravelguide.com>
2. The website should contain a menu through which the different topics can be fetched out with an ease.
3. The menu should contain the following:
 - Home Page
 - About Us
 - Search page
 - Information Page
 1. Tourist Spots available with in the country.
 2. Travel Information
 3. Hotel Information
 4. Restaurant Information.
 5. Resorts Information

- Contact Us
4. The About Us Page should include the details about the company, also it should include the details about the facilities that it will provide like transportation, packages, transportation and accommodation facility to tourist locations, etc.
 5. The Search page should implement the search for the various tourist spots like beaches, monuments, etc. and also it should include the search for the Hotels, Restaurants and resorts based on the location, price, quality, quantity and availability. Also on this page there should be a link for the advanced search page.
 6. The information page should contain 5 links as mentioned above and it should display the information about the new hotels restaurants and the resorts information also if there is any package or discounts that the company is providing can also be displayed.
 7. Tourist spots should include the various tourist locations available with in the country.
 8. Travel information should include the various transportation facilities available with in the country.
 9. Similarly the various hotels, restaurants and resorts that are available with in the country should be displayed for the Hotels, Restaurants, and resorts information.
 10. The contact us Page is the page where the customer can contact the company for placing an order and this page should also include the feedback, which will collect the feedback from the various users of the website.

User:

- ✓ Can register as a member and manage personal account.
- ✓ Can view and book a tour, hotels, restaurants, and resorts.
- ✓ Can view their old tour, hotels, restaurant, and resorts.
- ✓ Can view the list of tour, hotels, restaurant, and resort which they can book.
- ✓ Can leave comment on the tour, hotels, restaurants, and resorts that they booked.

Data Flow Diagram

1. Definition of Data Flow Diagram (DFD):

A Data Flow Diagram (DFD) is a graphical representation that depicts the flow of data within a system. It serves as a critical tool in systems analysis, helping to identify and illustrate the movement of information between different components of a system. DFDs are instrumental in understanding, documenting, and communicating the processes and data involved in system functionalities.

2. Four Main Activities Supported by DFD:

a. Analysis:

In the realm of system development, a DFD is a vital tool for determining user requirements. It helps in analysing the processes and identifying the flow of information, which is crucial for understanding the needs and constraints of the system. By visualizing how data moves through the system, analysts can pinpoint areas for improvement and optimization.

b. Design:

DFDs are extensively used in the design phase of system development. They provide a clear and concise way to map out and illustrate the proposed solutions to the requirements identified in the analysis phase. By offering a visual representation of data flows and how they interact with various system components, DFDs assist designers in conceptualizing and creating efficient and effective system architectures.

Design Plan: Karnel Travels	Document Name: Data Flow Diagram	SWD/Form No.04/DFD/Ver1.0
Effective Date: 11/12/2023	Version 1.0	Page No: 12 of 68

c. Communication:

One of the key strengths of DFDs lies in their simplicity and ease of understanding. They act as a common language between analysts, designers, and users, facilitating clear and effective communication regarding system processes and data flows. This transparency is essential for ensuring that all stakeholders have a mutual understanding of the system's design and functionality.

d. Documentation:

DFDs serve as an essential part of system documentation, providing a detailed depiction of system requirements and design. They offer an overview of the key functional components of a system without delving into the intricate details of each component. For more detailed information, supplementary tools such as database dictionaries and process specifications are used in conjunction with DFDs to provide a comprehensive understanding of the information exchanges and operational procedures within the system.

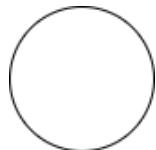

e. External Entities in DFD:

 External entities in a Data Flow Diagram represent outside factors that interact with the system. These can be individuals, groups, or organizations that either supply information to the system or receive output from it. External entities are crucial in understanding the system's boundaries and the interactions it has with the external environment. They are typically depicted as rectangles or ovals in a DFD and are the sources and destinations of data flows, highlighting the system's reliance on and relationship with external actors.

Design Plan: Karnel Travels	Document Name: Data Flow Diagram	SWD/Form No.04/DFD/Ver1.0

f. The Process in DFD:

Processes in a DFD symbolize the operations or activities that occur within the system. These are depicted as circles or rounded rectangles and are where data is processed or transformed. Each process in a DFD has a unique number or identifier and a descriptive title. They represent the logical functions or steps in which the incoming data is handled, manipulated, or utilized to produce a specific output. Processes are central to understanding the internal workings of the system and how data is used to achieve the desired outcomes.

g. Data Flow in DFD:

→ Data flow in a DFD illustrates the route that data takes from one part of the system to another. Represented by arrows, these flows show the movement of data between external entities, processes, and data stores. The direction of the arrow indicates the direction of the data movement. Data flows are labeled to describe the type of data or information that is being transferred. Understanding data flows is essential for identifying how information is communicated and shared within the system, ensuring the integrity and efficiency of data handling.

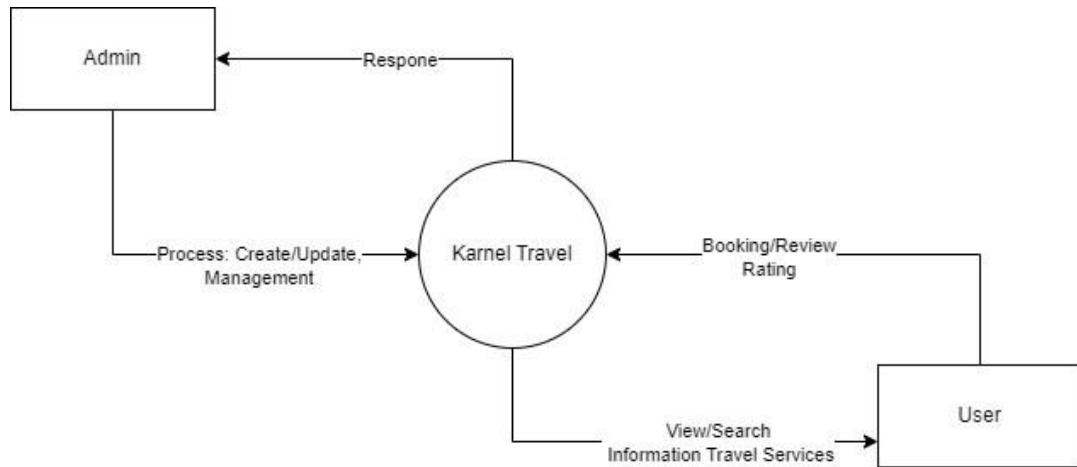

h. Data Store in DFD:

A Data Store in a DFD represents a storage area where data is held for future use. It is depicted as two parallel lines with a descriptive label identifying the store. Data Stores are used to model collections of data that are at rest, such as databases or repositories. They are connected to processes through data flows, signifying the input and output of data to and from these storage areas. Data Stores are integral to understanding how and where data is retained within the system, providing insights into the system's data management and retention strategies.

The screenshot displays the 'Karnel Travel' software interface. On the left, a sidebar menu includes options like Dashboard, Customer, Hotel, Resort (which is currently selected and highlighted in purple), Restaurant, TouristSpot, Travel, Booking, and Feed Back. The main content area is titled 'Add a new Resort'. It contains several input fields: 'NAME' (labeled 'Resort name'), 'ADDRESS' (labeled 'Resort address'), and 'PRICE'. Below these is a 'Resort Description' section with a rich text editor toolbar. To the right, there's a 'Resort Thumbnail' section featuring a wavy line graphic and a 'CHOOSE FILE' button.
